Pendleton Blanket Raffle

Star of the sea, or Stella Maris, was a name given to the North Star by the sailors who have used it as a guiding light for as long as man has traveled the sea. The graduated palette of indigo, lapis, royal and ivory unfolds in a dynamic chevron pattern that evokes the emanation of starlight in the night sky and recalls the traditional craft of Star Quilts. Designer Alyssa Pheobus Mumtaz is an American artist known for her multimedia drawings that are inspired by iconography of traditional textiles. Her work is exhibited worldwide and has been recognized by numerous fellowships and grants.
